Hi Joe,

Good seeing you again. We received a letter yesterday from Compass that had two parts; one was in reference to the name change, the other was a letter from your corporate treasurer that we were supposed to sign and return. Let me break this up into two parts:

1) Regarding the name change, this needs to be done through a permit amendment. Compass needs to submit form MR-REV, located here: https://fs.ogm.utah.gov/PUB/MINES/Minerals_Related/FORMS/MR-REV.pdf Along with this form, Compass should provide replacement NOI pages that list new corporate information. A replacement NOI cover page should also be sent. With the name change, Compass also needs to replace the Reclamation Contract, form MR-RC. It can be downloaded here: https://fs.ogm.utah.gov/PUB/MINES/Minerals_Related/FORMS/MR-RC-LMO.pdf The Reclamation Contract needs to be filled out and signed by Compass corporate officers. Once we receive and review it, we will countersign and return a copy to Compass.

2) The letter that came from Compass' Treasurer is addressed to JP Morgan Chase Bank and refers to the LOC. This letter has wording that the Division is not comfortable with and the Division will not sign it.

Typically with a revision like this, Compass would submit the revision request form, replacement pages, and Reclamation Contract. After we review and accept the amendment and the Reclamation Contract, Penny Berry sends a letter accepting the name change to the bank holding the LOC. In that letter, we request the bank send us a letter on their letterhead acknowledging our acceptance. The wording in this letter from Compass appears to excessively limit the Divisions rights. If there are any questions on this, your treasurer should discuss this with Penny.

You can call me to discuss the permit revision if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Thanks Mike. I will be at DNR after lunch today on the canal issue. Could I stop by and discuss to make sure I am clear?

Best
Joe

Mike

For change pages, do you want redline strikeouts and non-redline, or just non-redline?

Best

Just non-redlines are fine. Fresh, clean replacement pages is all we need. Something like this doesn't need to go through much of a review.

Thanks,

Mike

Our last amendment, which was approved in June, was submitted in January 2014. That submittal had redline strikeout. Should I 'accept' those changes as the baseline, and fold in the Compass Minerals Ogden changes on the non-redline template, or should I keep the January 2014 redline, and revise from there?

Joe,

Since the previous amendment was approved, you can accept the changes, remove the redlines and send just the previously redlined pages back to us under separate cover. Send the updated corporate info / MR-RC as a new amendment (this needs to be assigned a new internal tracking task). Now that you bring this previous amendment up, can you go ahead and provide updated maps, with current dates on them? Alternatively, you can submit the updated maps as part of your annual report. Your choice...

Thanks,
